Joined by his family, successful P.C. candidate Art Ward raises his hands in victory and salute at the P.C. Convention Saturday in Lindsay. The Haliburton resort owner won the nomination by 76 votes on the second ballot.

Ward wins P.C. race

"The first thing I'm going to do is call Mr. Eakins and tell him I'm in the race."

With those words to reporters, Progressive Conservative Art Ward set off on the campaign trail of a provincial election that has yet to be called.

John Eakins, a member of the Liberal Party and Minister of Tourism and Recreation, currently represents the riding of Victoria-Haliburton in the provincial legislature.

Ward defeated hopefuls Valmay Barkay and Anne Wilson by a solid majority at the riding's Progressive Conservative Association nominating convention held Saturday at I.E. Weldon Secondary School in Lindsay.

Another priority, Ward said after the second ballot had been announced, will be to sit down with his opponents and get them on to his team.

After that he'll be hard at work putting together a strong party organization in the riding, he said. But Ward denied that it would be difficult building support among constituents; "The Conservatives have always been strong in this riding," he said.

A total of 479 Conservative Association members registered to vote at the convention.

Ward won the first ballot with 215 votes, beating Barkay, who garnered 137 and Wilson who had 117.

Again, in the second ballot, Ward came out on top with 265 votes to Barkay's 189.

The three groups of placard waving supporters who filled the chairs in the high school gymnasium were more or less equal in number. It was the undecided voters, a group of about 150, filling the stands at the back, who cast the deciding ballots.

The atmosphere at the convention was lively and all three candidates spoke well.

A common note sounded was the need to listen to the people. Both Barkay and Wilson spoke of the importance of grass roots representation; Ward criticized the present government for responding to the people's problems with press releases instead of action.

Barkey, who was the first to speak, arrived at the stage in a carriage pulled by

Veterans ponder local Legion

The possibility of establishing a branch of the Royal Canadian Legion in Minden will be considered at a special meeting called for next Wednesday, March 18. Talk of starting a new Legion in this community has been circulating for a number of weeks, however this is the first official announcement that a serious effort is underway.

According to Mabel Brannigan, one of those involved in advising the organizers, for a new branch to receive its charter, there must be at least 15 veterans not associated with other branches, willing to request the formation of a new branch. She said that the group now includes more than 15 with strong support from existing Legion members.

The organizers have called a meeting for next Wednesday to explain the costs and challenges of starting a new branch and the difficulties which may be encountered. According to Brannigan, there appears to be strong interest in the community for the creation of a Minden Legion with individuals offering fund raising and support ideas to get the facility off the ground.

She said the meeting of Wednesday will explore these possibilities with the members. "We want to be sure the members want and can proceed with this," she commented.

Minden hosts curling championships

Some of the top curlers in southern Ontario will be playing in Minden next week as this community hosts the Junior Mixed and Intermediate Men's Provincial Championships.

Eight teams in each division will be involved in the four days of curling. Each team will play seven games in the round robin event. The teams with the highest point total at the end of the play-off will claim the championship.

"This is not a large money or big prize event," Mike Maybee one of the local organizers, explained. "These curlers will be playing for the honour of being named the best in their division in southern Ontario."

The two championships are sponsored by the Ontario Curling Association, with assistance from Seagram's Distillery. The organization represents curlers associated with member clubs in the region south of the French River. Over the past few months, a series of local, regional and zone competitions have been held to determine the top eight teams in each division. It is these curlers who will be competing at the Minden Curling Club.

The Junior mixed division includes curlers 20 years of age and less while the intermediate division is for men over 40 years of age. This is the final level of competition for these curling enthusiasts and the rink which captures top honours will carry the title of OCA champions for the coming year.

The teams will be playing ten end competition games, starting with the first match Wednesday afternoon. Two games are scheduled for each team for each of the three days, culminating with the final contest Saturday evening. Since both competitions will be run on a total point basis, there will be no "final" or play-off match scheduled, unless two teams are tied at the end of regular competition. In such an instance, the two teams will meet Sunday for a tie-breaking game.

Three members of the Minden Curling Club executive, Mike Maybee, Gareth Kellett and Sally Bonner, along with a special committee including other members of the local curling fraternity have been working on this project for almost a year. In addition to ensuring the facilities here meet the specifications of the OCA, the committee, with various volunteers, has undertaken a number of tasks to ensure the smooth operation of the four-day event and the enjoyment of the curlers and spectators.

Mr. Kellett is the OCA representative at the Minden club and will act as umpire for the competition. He has chaired the committee overseeing the championship.

A spokesman for the committee described the event as a "chance of a lifetime for enthusiasts to see quality curling on their home ground." It was noted that the event should put Minden on the curling map, both for competitors and spectators from out of town.

Of special interest to avid curlers will be the fact that Paul Savage who played vice on the Ed Werenich Briar rink several years ago will be in attendance Wednesday. As an official of the OCA, Savage will conduct the team meetings prior to the start of play. At these meetings, the rinks are advised on the rules under which the play will be conducted.

Admission throughout the four days of curling is free for spectators. Meals and refreshments will be available at the club during the day.

Minden appoints bylaw officer

As the new bylaw enforcement officer for the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Peter Oomen comes to his job with a considerable amount of experience in the field.

Before officially taking up his duties at the Minden office on March 2, Oomen was a bylaw enforcement statements about the job. "After all," he admits, "I'm still unfamiliar with the area."

But as far as getting his bearings in the new position, Oomen says he's had a lot of help from the previous bylaw officer Dick Schell.

Interesting to note, Oomen worked for many years as a journalist on local newspapers, both in the Toronto area and as far away as Sydney, Australia. "I've covered local council meetings before, so I know what local politics are all about," he says.

And he's also taken part in politics. In 1982 he served as chairman of the Dufferin officer in Dufferin County, northwest of Toronto.

"I'm looking forward to working here," he says. "I'll have some responsibilities I didn't have in Dufferin, so that will be a change. Also, this is a very nice part of the province to be in."

He points out that it's a bit early for him to be making County Board of Education.

One of Oomen's favourite pastimes is travelling. "I've already been around the world," he says.

At the age of 19 he hitch hiked across North America from Alaska to Mexico. Some years after graduating from Carleton University in Ottawa, he travelled to Australia where he worked both as an editor and reporter.

He says the career change to municipal administration was a healthy move that he's glad he made. "As a journalist I learnt a lot. I did all the things I wanted to do and at that point I realized it was time for a change."

Peter Oomen, the new bylaw enforcement officer.

Acid rain report

Two precipitation events were reported during the past two weeks at the Ministry of Environment acid rain monitoring station in Dorset. The following information was compiled by Environment Canada from data collected at the Dorset facility.

- March 1 - 23 cm of mixed rain and snow, pH 4.5, from Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania and southern Ontario.

- March 2, one cm of snow, pH 4.4, from northwest Quebec and central Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Guest speakers will be Mr. Leo Dorion, Executive Director of St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough, Minden Hospital and Haliburton Hospital along with Barb Dawson, Fund Raising Chairman. For a long time there has been a need for chronic care beds in Haliburton County and the Ministry of Health has now approved the addition of 18 beds for this purpose. Almost $240,000 is to be made by donations from the general public and Service Clubs. Can you help?

established in the community, Legionnaires who are members of other branches will be able to transfer their membership to the Minden Branch. Brannigan suggested earlier this month that having a Legion in Minden would appeal to local veterans and associate members who are finding it more difficult to travel to other communities to take part in Legion activities. Local branches of the Legion are located in Haliburton, Kinmount, Wilberforce and Cobocok. The Zone Commander for the Legion, Mel Robertson of Minden, has been invited to attend the meeting next Wednesday.

If those attending the meeting are in favour of forming a new branch, a formal application to the senior authority will be made and, upon approval, a date for the installation of the charter members will be scheduled.

Those interested in the formation of a Minden Legion are invited to attend the meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. upstairs at the township municipal office.

The fight to curb and eventually end acid rain will be a long one. When the problem was first identified there were some who believed an easy solution was within reach by simply getting those who create the pollution to stop. That, of course, is still the ultimate goal, but as the reality of the immense nature of the problem and its sources unfolded, it became obvious there was no quick fix. Getting the co-operation of everyone involved would take time, persuasion and a factual base on which a case could be built.

While there are some, especially south of the border, who believe more studies and facts are needed before they will believe acid rain is a culprit, most individuals who have studied the studies believe they can identify the sources of acidic precipitation, the tracks which carry it to our back yards and the consequences for our lakes, land and wild life. The task now is to convince those who can affect the changes necessary to lead to a reduction in acid rain.

The Ministry of Environment has been one of the main government agencies leading this battle. The ministry, at its testing station in Dorset, has welcomed journalists, politicians and business leaders at special open forums to discuss the impact of acid rain on this province. At these meetings, experts, representing a broad spectrum of scientific knowledge, have been called on to present their findings and convince the visitors, mostly from the U.S.A., of the seriousness of the problem and our concern.

That process took an interesting and refreshing turn last week when journalists from a number of high profile publications met with a cross-section of local individuals who explained how acid rain was affecting them. Included in the number were such individuals as a real estate agent, sugar bush operator, cottage owner, teacher, student, municipal politician and trout farmer among them. Each had a personal story to relate. Each would relate in individual terms the consequences of acid rain. This approach was both valuable and perhaps more meaningful than all the scientific data, figures, charts, maps, and graphs the MOE could produce.

While there is a place for in-depth information to back demands for a reduction in acid rain, we believe this personal one-to-one approach will do more to generate understanding of the concerns we all feel. Hats off to the MOE for helping to bring this aspect of the story to the attention of these opinion leaders.

Rural routes

One born every minute

- by Arthur Black -

"It cannot be denied that in dealings with the public, just a little touch of humbug is immensely effective..."

Canadian physician Sir William Osler.

Humbug. Such a wonderful word. Pity it's not used much any more. My dictionary defines humbug as "something intended to deceive; a hoax." The word has been around since the days of Dickens, but it was the 19th Century Yankee impresario P.T. Barnum who raised it to an art form.

Experts disagree about whether or not Barnum really said "There's a sucker born every minute" but nobody denies he made a lot of money out of fleecing the gullible. He founded a rag-tag circus in 1871, modestly named it "The Greatest Show on Earth" then sat back and waited for the money to roll in.

And it did. In the form of hard-earned nickels and dimes clutched tightly in the fists of naive Americans easily awed by bright lights, loud music and wall-to-wall razzmatazz.

They came in droves. They came to see The Feejee Mermaid, advertised on a 15-foot long billboard showing a gorgeous creature, half fish, half blonde bombshell. Inside, customers beheld a taxidermist's bad dream consisting of a monkey's torso blanket stitched to the tail end of a bluefin tuna. Altogether it was a foot and a half long.

They lined up to see George Washington's nurse - a female dwarf hired by Barnum. He claimed she was 161 years old and had nursed the first American president. A newspaper reporter cried "Fraud" and Barnum confessed immediately. He called a press conference to announce that the nurse was really a robot working with a ventriloquist. Was Barnum crazy? Like a fox. The people lined up to see the new circus sensation. Naturally they had to lay their money down again.

Barnum also showed a genius for traffic flow. In order to keep the customers moving briskly through the exhibits, Barnum printed up a fancy banner that read THIS WAY TO THE EGRESS!! The crowds rushed forward, eager to see what they assumed was another display, only to find themselves outside, winking in the bright sunlight of the midway. Perhaps when they got home the more scholarly among them took the trouble to look up 'egress' and discover that it means 'exit.'

If Barnum was the Crown Prince of Humbug, Joey Skaggs must be the Guerilla

Insurgent of the phenomenon. Mister Skaggs is a present-day American entrepreneur and he, too, likes to perpetrate massive con games, but unlike old P.T., Skaggs doesn't victimize the public.

He goes after the media.

Many years ago, Skaggs developed an intense loathing for the way radio, TV and newspapers trivialize and distort the news. But instead of writing letters to the editor, Skaggs decided to try another option: revenge. He started 'planting' stories - absurd, impossible fairy tales - then he stood back to giggle as reporters scrambled all over each other to cover them. Skaggs pulled a lot of scams. He posed as an angry Romany demanding that the Gypsy Moth be renamed. In another, more prudish guise, Skaggs campaigned to put diapers on the horses that pull carriages through Central Park. Still another Skaggs incarnation sent out news releases about a mythical robbery at an equally mythical celebrity sperm bank. He also posed as Doctor Joseph Bones, leader of a 'Fat Squad' which could be rented by weak-willed porkies to make sure they stuck to their diets - with handcuffs, leg irons and straitjackets when necessary. Did the worldly wise and cynical New York press laugh him right on to the funny pages? Nope, they ate it up. Editors put him on the front pages of their newspapers and TV producers made him the lead item on the Six O'Clock News. They fell for it hook line and phoney press release. Not a one of them ever said: "Hey wait a minute, guys, this sounds fishy."

Which didn't surprise Joey Skaggs a bit. "Reporters are always more interested in a good story than they are in the truth" he says.

Well that's a sentiment P.T. Barnum would share, even though he would no doubt lament the fact that Joey Skaggs makes no money from his hobby.

That's not a problem that plagues the New York Historical Society. The Society staged an exhibit of "Barnumbalia" last year - a collection of letters, pamphlets, pictures and displays from the colourful 81-year career of the self-styled Prince of Humbug. It was a smash hit. New Yorkers couldn't get enough of old photos and posters showing such Barnum staples as Jo-Jo the Dog-Faced Boy, General Tom Thumb and Madame Clofullia, the Bearded Lady.

P.T. Barnum would have approved.

He might have had to bite his tongue to keep from snickering, but he would have approved.

Editor:

I'm writing in reference to the article entitled 'Group reaches out to help wives and families' dated February 25, 1987.

I would like to express my appreciation for your media coverage of the Minden Open Forum. Silence is a major factor in the continuation of family violence therefore the role of the media in developing public awareness is essential to 'Breaking the Silence.'

Violence in the home is a complex issue. Your article contained several statements that I feel need to be clarified in order to convey a better understanding.

The statement "A batterer, she said, is someone who kicks, punches, slaps, pushes, or pulls his mate" needs to be expanded. Abuse can occur in various forms: physical, psychological, sexual and emotional. There are many ways in which abuse is carried out. We use examples to help people understand the extent of the problem, not to give the impression that this is the only way abuse occurs.

I was quoted in the article as saying that 'A profile of the average batterer is very much that of the average North American male'. This statement came from the film that was shown entitled 'Moving On'. In essence, it is true that a batterer could be any North American male. By this, I mean battering is not confined to any specific economic background, age group, or social or cultural background. We need to stress that battering is a behavioural problem, thus can be controlled and stopped with proper intervention.

The statistic commonly quoted when talking about family violence is that one out of every ten women in Canada is being abused. That would mean that in Haliburton County there are approximately 300 women involved in abusive relationships. Professionals now feel that statistic, which was gathered in 1980, is low. A more accurate statistic is accepted as being two out of ten women are being assaulted in Canada.

Finally, I would like to point out that Glen Hamilton is not a volunteer with the FVSN. He is a co-leader of the Men's Group, which is a program in itself, funded under the Ministry of Community and Social Services.

I hope this helps to clarify some points. I look forward to continually working with your paper in conveying information about family violence to the community.

Jude King,
Outreach Counsellor,

Network.

Editor:

Bill Kulas' excellent article: The Global Economy (Times, March 4), gives us some insight into both the experience of our forefathers and certain, current realities.

Whether or not we understand, we are living in a global community. The home of life, as we know it, is our planet, earth. Consequently, we cannot afford to be indifferent to, ignorant and/or supportive of the destructive forces - ecological abuses and imbalances, economic exploitations and inequalities, political injustices and persecutions, nuclear weapons' presence and escalations - of our original and sustaining source.

Unless we are bent on destroying life's habitat, what better alternative do we have than to seek and pursue ways of peace and development in our world.

A very positive influence in our community is the Help A Village Effort (H.A.V.E.). Within three years H.A.V.E. has successfully funded the drilling of 27 village wells (with 20 more now in progress), a water pipe line in the foothills of the Himalayas and other smaller, essential projects. Its goals of raising $60,500 for the Rural Community Health Centre is presently within $8,000. (CIDA has contributed $31,611 toward this project.)

To provide 16 wells in The Gambia (West Africa) and more potable water systems in India, H.A.V.E. invites you to take part in its fourth Walk For Water, to start from Carnarvon on Saturday, June 6.

If you are particularly concerned or troubled by negativism in our society, why not consider the opportunities of applying positive effects, wherever and whenever possible. When villagers are confronted for instance, with persistent drought and/or a lack of suitable drinking water, sooner or later they too, increase the statistics of displaced persons in the slums of cities or even inside the border or another country, including, perhaps, Canada.

All of us, in some way, can assume responsibility to assist deprived persons to help themselves anywhere in our own global home. When once the circumstances of desperately needy people become at least tolerable for themselves and their families, they will not want to uproot themselves any more than Canadians generally do.

Gerry Feltham,
Ingoldsby.

What do you think about...

Education planning

by Bill Kulas

This academic year in Ontario, four out of every ten students will drop out of High School.

This drop-out rate is one of the highest in the industrial world. Why is this the case, when training our students new skills is of paramount importance in order to compete effectively in a modern, competitive and ever-changing world?

We live in an age of information in which knowledge is our most precious resource and the key to this country's economic well-being. Mr. Walter Light, former chairman of Northern Telecom, recently stated that the work of the future will be in international trade, micro-electronics and software, bio-technology and fibre-optics. Never has industry placed more of an emphasis on hiring personnel with college diplomas or university degrees.

Yet the education being provided has never been in greater doubt. Using recent statistics from a business trade journal, Japan educates 35 times as many engineers as Canada does, yet Canada educates 35 times as many lawyers, taking into account population. A strange phenomenon isn't it? I guess we will be assured of obtaining politicians for some time to come!

Recently, I had a brief discussion with a well respected member of our community. The chat centred around how much of an involvement schools and governments should play in shaping the career path of a student. My contention is that these bodies should and must, play a major role in the future of our students.

For example: If figures point to the fact that, let's say, four or five years from now there will be no jobs for teaching school graduates, nor from the faculty of medicine, then lay these facts down on the table! Why spend excessive millions of dollars in educational funds on certain programs, if the market will not be able to support for some time, new employment?

No one is saying to do away with certain programs or prevent someone who has their heart set on a certain career from entering that field. Just streamline, plan, budget and prepare our teaching institutions to better prepare our future graduates.

The Ontario provincial government's participation in schooling has grown from 8 million dollars in 1951 to almost 1.5 billion dollars today. Almost $6000 per student per year. It's time that more planning and thought went into where educational funds are being spent in order to fill the needs of society quickly and efficiently. Skills training and investment in the students of our province is an economic strategy and a thought for concern, don't you think?

Increased education funding

-by John Eakins MPP-

From time to time college and university students contact me to seek aid in their applications for financial assistance to attend school.

In speaking with many students, I know that in many instances, there is a real need for aid so that students in Victoria-Haliburton can continue their education. I was therefore pleased, as a member of Cabinet, to support a decision to increase funding in the area of student aid.

My colleague, the Honourable Gregory Sorbara, Minister of Colleges and Universities has announced a budget increase of 17 per cent for 1987-88.

Specific improvements to OSAP include a sharp reduction in the financial contribution from parents of students from low-income families. As well, sole support parents will now be eligible for grant assistance to cover child care costs.

OSAP will provide more assistance to students from farm families because farm assets will now be considered at half their net value. The decision to increase assistance to students from farm families resulted from a review of declining farm prices and the resulting impact on farm

1987 spending plans

- by Bill Scott, MP -

The President of the Treasury Board tabled the government's detailed spending plans for next year, its Main Estimates, on March 2, 1987. These Estimates set out the detailed budgets of departments and agencies and they forecast expenditures under the various transfer programs such as old age security and family allowances.

The spending plans set out in the Main Estimates add up to about $110 billion, a staggering number that is almost impossible to fully comprehend. However, the size and content of these spending plans reveal much about how the government has fared as a fiscal manager. For example, the increase over last year is only 3.8%, the lowest rate of increase in a quarter century. Moreover, this is the third consecutive year in which this government has tabled a Main Estimates where the growth rate has been less than that of the previous year. A government has not been able to make this claim for almost two decades.

These achievements are all the more noteworthy when one recognizes that two-thirds of Main Estimates relate to ongoing spending previously authorized by Parliament in separate legislation, and where annual increases are provided for in law. These include payment of family allowances, old age security and spouses allowances, and transfers to the provinces for post-secondary education and health care.

The government can exercise more discretion over the remaining one third of spending detailed in the Main Estimates, since Parliament is asked to authorize annually this spending through new legislation. However, this incomes. In addition, Mr. Sorbara said OSAP will extend grant assistance to students attending degree-granting religious schools and approved art schools. Until now, students attending institutions such as the Ontario Bible College and the National Theatre School in Montreal, to cite just two examples, have been eligible only for loan assistance.

Mr. Sorbara said much of the new funding will be directed to increasing the grant assistance provided to students. These changes to OSAP are consistent with the Ontario Government's policy of increasing accessibility to post-secondary institutions. This is the second substantial increase to the Ontario Student Assistance Program in as many years.

I hope that this budget increase will assist many, not only in Haliburton and Victoria Counties, but throughout Ontario.

And speaking of educating students, I had the pleasure last week of attending the opening of the Haliburton Hospitality Training School.

In a riding where tourism contributes so greatly to the economy, I applaud the people who are working to ensure visitors to our area will receive first class care.

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

This has been a particularly busy and productive week for our chamber manager Shirley Rapson, and our various committees. John Mateer and Joyce Waffle met and approved the proofs for the upcoming summer guide. They have been assured by Allan Hall of Alcom Marketing that they will be ready for the Sportsmen's Show.

The publications committee of COTA also met last week. John Mateer and Shirley Rapson attended. COTA will be tendering the 1988 summer guide once COTA has established the direction that it wishes to proceed and then the chamber should be able to come to a decision as to what we should do.

There has been good response to the Sportsmen's Show, and it appears as if booths will be manned fully by volunteer members. Shirley Rapson is also contacting various tourist businesses with regard to a travel trade convention in Buffalo, Syracuse and Rochester, on March 24, 25 and 26. This is arranged through COTA and was a great success for many of those businesses that supported our participation last year. If enough support materializes then our chamber will go. We need eight businesses.

The special events committee of Marg Kennedy and Brian Watts, will be assisting in putting up and taking down the booths.

Last Monday I met with Ken Langdon the finance chairman, John Mateer, Marg Kennedy, Shirley Rapson and Carol Puffer, to discuss the upcoming preliminary chamber budget for our next board meeting. The final draft will be approved later in April.

One final note: Shirley Rapson visited the Cardiff Township Council last Thursday, as a special guest. This is part of an ongoing effort to keep in touch with all township councils and keep them fully informed of the activities and work of our Chamber.

Training centre wins praise

The Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Centre received praise from representatives of the two senior levels of government who attended the opening of the organization's new location March 3. Both Minister of Tourism John Eakins and Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott were on hand to pay tribute to the efforts of the organization.

The training centre for workers in the hospitality industry has moved to a new location at the former Dell Haven Bed & Breakfast on Highway 121 west of Haliburton. The centre will continue to operate the modest accommodation service to provide trainees with practical experience at meeting the needs of the traveller.

Eakins told the crowd at the opening that while it is vital to offer good facilities to visitors, "...the individuals who are a part of the industry are more important." He said the training centre was an integral part of the hospitality industry and commended the centre's board of directors, saying they were leaders in the province.

The provincial representative paid tribute to the federal government for their assistance in funding the new centre.

Bill Scott, MP, told the gathering that the federal government had provided some $250,000 for the installation of the program at Dell Haven. He said this represented the largest single grant given to any one organization under this program in the country. He said that to date, the Hospitality Training Centre had received $968,000 in federal assistance since its inception in 1983.

Those attending the opening enjoyed a variety of snacks and canapes prepared and served by the centre's trainees.

category also contains some essential payments, such as those for aboriginal programs, veterans' pensions and allowances, and federal law enforcement activities. It also includes spending on defence and foreign aid, two areas which have experienced rapidly growing budgets, reflecting the high priority assigned to them by the government. Nevertheless, it is this category of spending upon which the government has focused its spending reduction measures, through a series of restraint initiatives dating back to November 1984. As a consequence, this annually authorized category of spending has grown by an average of only 1.3% per year over the past three years. This is well below the rate of inflation. This record again illustrates the vigor of this government's fiscal management efforts; one has to go back to a three-year period at the beginning of the 1960's for this level of performance to be equalled.

This government can be justly proud of its record on financial and fiscal management. The basic messages emerging from the mass of numbers contained in the Main Estimates are similar to those contained in the Minister of Finance's Budget statement of February 18, 1987. That is, that the government is demonstrably committed to sound management and operation of an efficient and productive public service.

Impaired driver gets jail term

A charge of operating a motor vehicle while having a breathalyzer reading over the legal 80 milligram limit has resulted in a 60 day jail sentence for a Stanhope resident. The charge was laid after the driver was involved in a single vehicle accident November 1985 on Highway 118 in which an 8 year old passenger was killed.

Rita Barry, 28, appeared in Lindsay Provincial Court February 20 to answer the charge. She pleaded guilty.

In addition to the jail term, the woman was placed on five months probation.

Charge laid

A charge of assault with a weapon has been laid against a Peterborough woman following an incident Sunday. The police were called to a residence on North Kashagawigamog Drive in response to a request for assistance.

Charged is 19 year old Michelle Levesque.

Constables Ben Manuge and Al Bibby are investigating the incident.

Snowmobile stolen

An investigation is continuing into the theft of a snowmobile from the Texaco service station in Wilberforce. The theft occurred March 5.

According to the police, the 1977 model Ski-doo was on a trailer in the service station lot when the thief removed the machine and drove away.

The theft is being investigated by Constable Dave MacMartin.

Fossil display featured

The schedule for the Fossil display has been circulated within the county but more details have been released in the last few days that may be of interest to you.

Entitled "Fossils: Myths Legends and Folklore" the exhibit takes a light-hearted look at some of the popular beliefs that surround these natural objects with supernatural powers. Paleontology is the name of the game for those of us who like big words but for the others, fossils are the remains of plants, animals or other records of their presence as preserved in the rocks of the earth about us.

Today, scientists and laymen alike scoff at many of these ancient beliefs, but that doesn't mean that we can't have a little pleasure in remembering them.

The display will be moved around the County Library system on a regular basis and if you miss it at one place, you can always catch it somewhere else. Times will be available by contacting your local ship and Culture who provided the funding...OLS branch or by calling the county librarian at (705) 457-2241.

Although the schedule may change without notice, here is the timetable in place now:

March 13-18 Dysart Branch Haliburton; March 19-24 Sherborne Branch Dorset; March 25-28 Glamorgan Branch Gooderham; March 31-April 4 Bicroft Branch (Cardiff); April 6-11 Cardiff Branch (Highland Grove); April 13-20 Monmouth Branch (Wilberforce); April 21-25 Stanhope Branch; April 27-May 1 Minden Branch.

People to thank for these events...Ministry of Citizen-

Trent who help with the booking and awareness schemes...Haliburton

County Public Library who co-ordinate at the County level...and your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library.

Visit your branch of the Haliburton County Public Library and see how big we really are.

At a game in Haliburton Thursday night, the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen lost to Adam Scott 7-3. Here a Redman takes a shot at the Adam Scott net.

Redmen in finals

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen are strutting their stuff.

In a total goal contest against Campbellford played March 2 and March 3, the Redmen lost the first game 2-1 but won the second 7-1. They won the contest by 5 goals.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Haliburton beat Adam Scott in a best of three game series. They won the first match 6-3, lost the second 7-3, and trounced Adam Scott in the final game 6-2.

On Monday night they began another best of three series, the Kawartha Finals, Fenelon Falls, but lost the first game 5-2. The second game in the series will be tonight, Wednesday, in Haliburton Village at 7:15.

If the Redmen win, a third game will be played in Fenelon Falls on Thursday.

A victory in the Kawartha final will mean the Redmen can take part in the All-Ontario finals in North Bay, to be held on the 26, 27 and 28 of March. The best 16 teams in the province will be there to decide who's number one.

Senior curlers host social

submitted

The Minden Senior Curling Social Club held an enjoyable social evening on Saturday in the club lounge.

The evening was highlighted by the accordion music of Ed Pickard and his wife Billie. Muriel Nightingale rendered a lively Spanish Fandango dance getting the evening off to a great start but the best was yet to come, when Muriel and Paul O'Brien rendered a duet of 'Frankie & Johnny Were Lovers' which had those present roaring with laughter, something needed in these times. Peggy Pettinger also joined Muriel in a lively dance.

All present enjoyed the fun and a light lunch was served later in the evening.

Thanks to the committee: Stan Hill for the spot prizes; Bill Donnelly, food; Frank Codlin, tables; and Ralph Kennedy and Ken Walsh, tickets.

Ward wins

chanting supporters.

She reminded the audience that this was the first time in the history of the local provincial P.C. association that two women candidates had stood for party nomination.

She emphasized the importance of free enterprise and said that her priority, if elected, would be to support business and to lower taxes. "I am committed to a strong, vibrant, free enterprise system where the hard worker can get ahead," she said.

Barkey said that her background in gerontology would come in useful if she was chosen to represent Victoria-Haliburton, the riding with the highest density of seniors in all of Ontario.

She also attacked the present Liberal-NDP Coalition for its record of "compromise and inactivity." "Mr. Peterson and his bond slave Rae have passed 38 bills less in the first session of government than the Tories did in their first session of minority government in 1980," she said.

Barkey concluded by promising to make a commitment to the party, founded on "the traditional family qualities of persistence and determination." Quoting Calvin Coolidge, she said "Nothing in this world can take the place of persistence."

Next at the podium was Ward. He touched on a wide range of issues and strongly criticized the coalition government of David Peterson.

Agriculture in Ontario, Ward said, is experiencing a crisis and farmers have yet to receive aid promised by the government.

The health care system is also in a mess, he said. "I can think of no single major initiative carried out by the present minister of health."

Ward, who owns the Wigamog Inn on Lake Kashagawigamog, charged that the government's record in tourism is particularly bad. He singled out the Destinations East scheme and the ministry's tourism advertising program as examples of failure.

"Our share of the tourism market is dropping and we need bold action," he said.

Last to speak was Anne Wilson. She argued that the work she had already done campaigning for the convention was proof that she would be a good Conservative candidate.

"I've travelled over 65,000 kilometres in this riding since December," she said. "I've main-streeted, I've knocked on doors, I've demonstrated clearly my willingness to work for you."

She promised, if elected, to help Haliburton County ambulance operators increase their staff.

The Peterson government's treatment of farmers is terrible, she said, as are its policies regarding logging and tourism.

Wilson concluded by urging association members to give her the chance to fight John Eakins in the next election, "issue by issue, house by house."

Throughout the counting of the ballots, Art Ward sat, apparently detached from the emotion of the moment, his wife and children at his side. But when the results of the final vote were announced, a cheer broke out from his supporters and the Ward family took to the stage beaming with joy and relief.

In accepting the nomination Ward thanked his wife, family and supporters for their efforts and promised to earn the respect of the association members.

Rockcliffe wins opener

Action in the Men's Recreational Hockey League has been narrowed down in the playoffs to a contest between Hall's Insurance and Rockcliffe Tavern.

Last Monday night saw the first game in a best out of three showdown between the two teams. Rockcliffe defeated Hall's 6-2.

By no means was it an easy victory.

Hall's got the game off to a fighting start and notched up the first goal of the night late in the first period. It was put in by Jim Todd assisted by Joe Mitchell.

The second period was scoreless. Both teams fought hard and found themselves well matched.

In the final period however, Rockcliffe got the edge. They played a strong defensive game and an even stronger line and never losing an opportunity for a shot on net. The Rockcliffe score would have been much higher except for some excellent goal tending by Hall's goalie Terry Crowe.

First to score for Rockcliffe was Doug Schell. Soon afterward, Doug Thain put one in, assisted by Barry Boice. Rockcliffe's third goal was scored by Boice assisted by Kevin Hamilton.

Ted Vasey assisted by Peter Walker put in Rockcliffe's fourth, followed by Boice (his second goal of the game) assisted by Thain.

Finishing off Rockcliffe's six goal streak was Dave Pettes, assisted by Merv Mintz.

Minutes before the end of the game, Bernie Upton of Hall's knocked in his team's second and final point.

The final score was 6-2.

The playoffs continue this Monday night with game two in the series...a do or die situation for Hall's. Game time is 8 p.m. and admission is free.

Sr. Novices advance

- submitted -

In back-to-back games last Wednesday in Fenelon, and Thursday in Minden, the Monarch's Senior Novices defeated Fenelon Falls in a best 2 out of 3 series.

In game one in Fenelon Falls, the Monarchs dug in early, scoring two goals in the first two minutes and knowing they had a rematch the next night, slowed the pace down in the second and third periods, scoring one goal in each period while allowing Fenelon one goal for each of the second and third periods, but never giving up their two goal advantage.

Minden goals were scored by Andrew Wilbee (2), Tom Neville and Jeff Wray. Assists by Jeff Wray, Marty Dettman, Daniel Howell (2) and Dennis Woods.

In game two in Minden, our boys had their work cut out for them as Fenelon Falls came determined to stretch this series to a third game. The pace was fast and furious and it was not until the end of the second period with seven seconds remaining that the Monarch's Marty Dettman scored on a pass from Tom Bagshaw and Andrew Wilbee. Less than two minutes later, Tom Bagshaw scored on a pass from Andrew Wilbee and Jeff Wray.

In this second game, Justin Rowden was tested several times in goal, but as has come to be expected of him, he was superb and with the help of his teammates, earned his eighth shut-out in 25 games played.

They now enter a best two out of three series for the championship with either Oakwood or Woodville. Good Luck Monarchs!

Learning to love books

by Faith Aggett

The adult who wants a child to live a full life will help them learn to love books. When children have a happy introduction to books they discover there is fun, laughter, adventure, romance, information and enlightenment in them. They want more. They feel that books are their friends. They like to share them with parents, friends, grandparents or siblings. They turn to books for solace or entertainment in lonely moments. A child will develop ideas, vocabulary and grammar if given a rich menu of books during his earliest years.

Once a child is "hooked on books" he'll want to learn how to read and reading will come easy for him. But parents beware - the reader-to-be - may also be unconvinced as to his need to read. Children have to feel that the task of learning to read is worth the effort. And they can't be pushed.

You can enthusiastically provide the opportunity for a happy experience but be attuned to the concentration level and the child's personal readiness. No one skill that children learn receives so much attention as reading. Reading skills are basic in modern society, but without the background experiences that give him the understanding of what he reads, the words would be meaningless. For a child, such experiences begin at birth and continue throughout the individual's life in the events in which he participates, wherever they occur.

Storytime is an important time of day. A fresh supply of books should be selected regularly. The story should be chosen with children's ages and previous experiences in mind. The adult should choose a story they themselves like. It is not likely that the adult will put their best effort into a story they don't enjoy. The following are general guidelines for selecting stories and books.

They should: Be about young children, familiar people, animals, activities. Contain about one sentence per page for three year olds or up to three sentences for five year olds. Have a vocabulary that the child understands or is expected to learn. Be illustrated with clear, whole pictures that depict the action taking place. Be selected for both fun and information. If for fun, be fantasies that will not be harmful. If for information, be accurate.

Choices of books should include old favourites as well as new books that extend the child's knowledge.

The years before six are important years for developing children's enjoyment of books. This is the period for the adults to help them "catch" the enthusiasm for books.

Wednesday, March 11, 1987

Loving books makes using them for learning and enjoyment much easier. Many people have lost or never gained a good association with books. They may be college students who dread the thoughts of a library assignment, adults who seldom read and citizens who are lost when the TV breaks down. The library should be an enjoyable place to go and become a family habit. Go visit it with your child and share in his discoveries as the world opens up to him through literature.

Voices from HHSS

Hi! This week we would like to introduce or reintroduce some students to our readers. Two of our new students, because of the Rotary Exchange, have come here from other countries.

Nok, or her real name, Siranee Tangjirasilp came from Lopburi, Thailand. She is the Minden Rotary Exchange student. This is what she had to say for us: "In Thailand, when we talk about Canada, we just know that Canada's a big and cold country at the north of the USA but we don't know what it looks like! Or how people live! What people do and many more questions. These are the questions in my mind: "If you have an interest in something would you like to try it? and I said Yes!"

Did she have anything else to say? "I would like to thank everyone at HHSS for bringing me a really good time and thanks for helping me to understand Canadian youth, how they live and the English language. I am really enjoying my stay in Canada, although language, weather, food and everything is so different from my home. Everything is new and changes are special for me. And it is a great, new, good change! It's a terrific year and I will remember that as an exchange student."

Her address is:
Nok Siranee Tangjirasilp,
229 39-41 Naradmarahad Road,
A. Muang Lopburi 15000 Thailand.

The Rotary Exchange student staying in Haliburton is Angela Roberts who is 17 years old. She is from New Plymouth, New Zealand. She says, "It's a port city with a population of 40,000 on the west coast of the North Island. It's a dairy farming area and an energy centre of New Zealand." Why did you choose Canada, we ask: "I wanted to go to an English speaking country, and Canada was the most appealing of these. It's a very different country as far as things like - landscape, climate and population goes, but it's still a bit like home in that you have similar lifestyles. So far, its proving to be exciting as I hoped it would be - I really love all the snow! I don't want spring to come! I can also almost understand how hockey works now too!"

The exchange students abroad now, from Minden and Haliburton, are Lori Saunders, 17, who is in Australia and Lisa Williams, 18 who is in Denmark. Next year's exchange students from the area are Philip Johnston from Haliburton who is going to Finland and Tyna Hie from Minden who is going to Australia.

We wish them all the best of luck and fun next year.

Parents may be dreading this, but students are rejoicing over the fact that March Break is coming up from March 16 to 20th and, we would like to pass on a message: Have a Happy and Safe March break.

We will not be writing during the March break so, until our next edition...
Misti Campbell, Katy Beach, Dianne Garbutt, Heather Donaldson.

Rails' End Gallery welcomes new curator

Elene Freer is excited about working in Haliburton.

Last Friday night Freer was introduced as the new curator of the Rails' End Gallery at the opening of the Whetung Indian Art Exhibition at the gallery. Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts president Joan Hoad said she was sure the new curator would do an excellent job.

"I'm really looking forward to getting started," Freer said. As the holder of an Honours English degree from York University as well as an M.A. in Folklore from Memorial University in Newfoundland, Freer is well qualified for her position.

Folklorists, she says, look at art with respect to its makers and to the audience it was made for, a novel perspective for most art gallery curators, but one that is gaining credence in parts of the United States.

Though she was brought up in the Toronto area and spent time at a cottage in Haliburton County, Freer says she misses Newfoundland.

She explains that in the years she spent working on her Master's at Memorial, she grew attached to the land and the people.

Her interests are wide ranging. At present she's building a collection of photographs of interesting mail boxes around the province. With some luck, Freer says she'll be able to work them into a book.

The job in Haliburton has proven to be a piece of good luck. "I've already found a place to live and everyone I meet is so helpful," she says. Having spent many summers at her parents' cottage in the county, she's well acquainted with the area.

Freer takes the place of former curator Chris Lynd.

Well Folks, a beautiful day yesterday. A lot of the ladies at Hyland Crest took advantage of it by going out walking.

Our services Sunday evening were taken by Rev. J. Burgess assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. On Tuesday morning, Rev. George Elliott from St. Paul's Anglican Church in Minden took charge.

The pictures Monday evening were "Here's New Zealand" and "Highway One".

Mr. and Mrs. Doug McPhaden of Haliburton were guests of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Nesbitt and Mrs. Buttery one day this past week.

The ladies from Our Lady of Fatima Church brought the tea party in on Thursday. It was enjoyed very much as well as the lovely music and singing by Rose Barry and Toos Reid.

Chessel Nesbitt called in to see his mother several times this week.

Mr. Bill Payne and Mr. Eldon Deacon came in

Friday evening and entertained us in a very nice way with songs and music. Thank you, we hope you will come again.

The World Day of Prayer was held in the auditorium and was very well attended. Again, we enjoyed the music and singing of Rose Barry and Toos Reid, not that we didn't enjoy the rest of the meeting, it was splendid.

Birthdays for March were Angus Coulter, Alf Richardson, Victor MacBrien and Mrs. Sutherland.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyle of Sundridge came and took me out for lunch and a lovely drive around Haliburton and vicinity. Called on some friends of theirs, Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas who have a lovely place close to Kashagawigamog Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron from Peterborough called to see her sister Winnie Barnum and had dinner with her Sunday evening.

No winter lasts forever.

No Spring skips its turn. See you next week.

We received a note from Yvonne Guida who just spent some time in Toronto so will share it with you:

"Placido Domingo takes Toronto by storm! Last Sunday 14000 fans sat mesmerized at Maple Leaf Gardens as Placido performed with a fantastic performance. He was never better. His golden tones permeated the stadium as I am sure no other has done. Of course I was there to scream my 'Bravos' and 'Encore' and encore he did, ending with Granada, which he has been singing since he was a little boy in Spain. He began with 'Ah, la paterna man' from Macbeth. 'Che'lla mi creda' from La Fanciulla del West (The girl of the Golden West) and ended with 'No puede ser' from La Taberna del Puerto, before the encores. Mr. Domingo is a big man, standing 6'2" and looking every inch a Spanish grandee, in white tie and tails, with a small moustache and goatee. He graciously gave his partner Martha Senn and conductor John De Main the flowers that were obviously thrown to him. After the performance, 400 devoted fans plunked down $500 apiece to have a buffet supper with their idol. It was a magnificent afternoon.

The evening before was devoted to the ballet, which I attended and my favourite male dancer Rex Harrington performed. I believe Rex Harrington is the finest male dancer we have in Canada today. Mr. Harrington is not yet that well known, but when you see a dancer doing the leaps that he does and carry the ballerina around the stage with one arm, one really has to be impressed. He is also a very nice young man to which I can attest, having met him and his parents. I have also met Placido Domingo. Last fall I attended a performance in New York when he conducted an opera of Romeo and Juliette. I had the honour of presenting him with a portrait I had painted of him."

Twist and shout. Move it all about. Fitness is in. Fatness is out.

Student discovers her Canadian heritage

submitted

Encounters with Canada is a program offered each year in Ottawa for young people from all across Canada. This is a change for them to get together, to learn about the various parts of our country and to share their ideas and knowledge with one another. These special weeks are held at the Terry Fox Canadian Youth Centre in Ottawa.

A grade eleven student from the High School in Haliburton joined her classmates to hear a speaker talk about the programs being offered this year. She started to dream about attending this special time for one week, the week that Youth in Canada would be celebrating Arts and Culture.

To make her dream come true, she would need financial assistance, as this trip and the week in Ottawa costs $375.00. Having heard that the Legion in Haliburton sometimes assists the youth of this area, she wrote to Branch 129 requesting financial assistance to the tune of $150.00. The membership of the Legion decided that such an opportunity for young people should not be missed and voted to give Terry Johnson the full amount of $375.00.

Terry was at the general meeting on Thursday evening, March 5, and was presented with her cheque by Youth Education Officer, Comrade Allin Cooper. Miss Johnson then spoke to the membership and thanked them for their generosity. Terry showed a great deal of poise and confidence and impressed all the people at the meeting. She will be a worthy representative of her high school and of the legion. Terry has also promised to come to a future meeting at the branch and tell us all of her trip and experiences in Ottawa.

Haliburton Legion Youth Education Officer Allin Cooper, presents Terry Johnson with a $375 cheque enabling Terry to take part in the Federal government's Art and Culture Program.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

Prior to the general meeting last Thursday, two representatives, Kim Wray and Gary Barker, from the Department of Veterans' Affairs, visited Branch 129 and attempted to explain the new programs being introduced for Veterans in January 1988. About 65 veterans and their spouses attended this meeting. We hope that they gained some insights into the assistance available and would like to thank Comrades Lloyd Whittaker and Doug Pritchard for arranging this session.

Branch 129 welcomed two new associate members at the meeting - Gordon 'Geordie' Vincent and Maureen O'Hara.

Branch 129 has been and will continue to be the sole sponsor of Kids' Day at the Haliburton County Fair in Minden. Once again, the membership voted $200.00 to be donated for this day.

The Legion in Beaverton suffered a great loss in a fire which destroyed their club room and kitchen. To assist them with their rebuilding program, your branch has donated $1000.00.

Other donations approved at the general meeting were: Skiarama - $50.00, Zone Youth Education - $50.00, Heart and Stroke Foundation - $50.00, Minden Minor Hockey - $200.00.

The Boys From Indiana and the Bluegrass Connection will be at your legion on March 21 for a fun-filled evening of music and entertainment. We have only 300 tickets for the evening show. They are selling rapidly. If you want to attend this performance, get your tickets now. There is a possibility that if the evening is sold out, we will be able to have a matinee show on that Saturday.

Canada on Parade, a spectacular show in Toronto, promises to be a once in a lifetime experience. Branch 129 will charter a bus for the shows on either May 8 or May 10. Both days will feature Dame Vera Lynn. Check the information in your bulletin or on the board at the legion and sign up soon. If we do not have enough people interested in seeing one of these shows, we will have to cancel the bus. Sign up before this coming Saturday.

The date for the annual President's Ball has been set. Plan now to attend on June 6 and dance the evening away to the music of the very popular Frank Howard Orchestra.

President Joan has asked me to include this quote of her intentions to run again for the presidency of Branch 129. "So many new programs have been initiated that I would like to see them firmly established and well on their way to success. In order to do this, I plan to stand for re-election for one more year as president of Branch 129."

The next general meeting on April 2 is nomination's night. Plan now to be there.

Other donations given recently by Branch 129 are: The Haliburton Hylites $100; Clarence Rowbotham (who lost his home to fire) $100; Snowarama $50 and Windsor Indoor Classic Games $50.

On Sunday March 8, twenty-one members from Branch 129 attended the Zone F4 convention. This was election time and voting for Zone Commander and Deputy Zone Commander took place. Comrade Stan Moore from Lindsay is the new Zone Commander and Comrade Ken Bell from Omamee is now Deputy Zone Commander.

Branch 129's colour party was asked to be the official party for the convention. Comrade Irv Chambers and the members of his party did extremely well.
